

Quality Management Workshop

Call for Action - Revision ISO 9001:2015

All changes and impacts on your business!

Reasons for the revision of the existing standard - The aim of the major revision of ISO 9001 is a user-friendly, service-oriented structure to allow the simplification of integration in the daily work. The focus is on the structural change to an ISO compliant basic structure for all management systems. This revised standard is well-defined and prepares the ground for the integration of standard texts in all existing and new ISO management systems. This includes renewals, additional norm requirements for risk assessment, and the analysis of the existing management system, thus improving the efficiency of corporate processes. With the new DIN EN ISO 9001: 2015, much is going to change, and many tasks will be simplified by the new features. We will advise you how to implement your quality management system for added value!
